
A close-up photograph of a white high-speed train with a prominent red horizontal stripe. The train is positioned at night, with interior lights visible through the windows. A red logo, resembling a stylized lion or crest, is located to the left of the word 'Mainz'. A door with an oval window is visible on the right side of the frame. The overall scene is dimly lit, with the primary light source being the train's interior.

 Mainz

Tz 1582 in Frankfurt/M Hbf

Thomas Burgmann